When buying loose coffee or anything your grocer happens to have in his bin, how do you know what you are getting? Some queer stories about coffee that is sold in bulk, could be told, if the people who handle it (grocers), cared to speak out.

Could any amount of mere talk have persuaded millions of housekeepers to use the leader of all package coffees for over a quarter of a century, if they had not found it superior to all other brands in Purity, Strength, Flavor and Uniformity?

This popular success of LION COFFEE can be due only to inherent merit. There is no stronger proof of merit than continued and increasing popularity.

If the verdict of MILLIONS OF HOUSEKEEPERS does not convince you of the merits of LION COFFEE, it costs you but a trifle to buy a package. It is the easiest way to convince yourself, and to make you a PERMANENT PURCHASER.

Judith of the Plains

CHAPTER V.

WITHIN the house the travelers had disposed themselves in a repressed and melancholy circle that suggested the suspended animation of a funeral gathering. The fat lady had turned back her skirt to save her traveling dress. The stage was late, and there was no good and sufficient reason for wearing it out. A similar consideration of economy led her to flit off with her second best pocket handkerchief. Mrs. Dax presided over the gathering with awful severity.

"Chugg's never been so late as this," said Mrs. Dax, rocking herself furiously. Leander, the fat lady and Miss Carmichael meekly murmured assent and condemnation.

"And there ain't a sign of him," said Mrs. Dax, returning to the house after observing the landscape through her all observant eye and not detecting him in any of the remote plain pricks on the horizon in which these plains folk invariably decipher a herd of antelope, an elk or two or a horseman.

Judith had continued her unquiet pacing in the blinding glare while the group within doors, somnolent from the heat and the incessant shrilling of the locusts, drowsily talked and dozed. Each time she turned Judith would stop and scan the yellow road, shading her eyes with her hand, and each time she had turned away and resumed her walk. Mary, who gave the postmistress no unshared share of admiration for the courage with which she faced her difficulties and who had been seeking an opportunity to signify her friendship, now that she saw the last of the gallants depart, inquired of Judith if she might join her.

They walked without speaking for several minutes, enjoying a sense of comradeship hardly in keeping with the brevity of their acquaintance. A freedom from restraint spared them the necessity of exchanging small talk, that frequently irritating toll exacted as tribute to possible friendship.

The desert lay white and palpitating beneath the noonday glare, and from the outermost rim of desolation came dancing "dust devils" whirling and gliding through the mazes of their eerie dance. "I think sometimes," said Judith, "that they are the ghosts of those who have died of thirst in the desert."

Mary shuddered imperceptibly. "How do you stand it with never a glimpse of the sea?"

"You'll love it or hate it. The desert is too jealous for half measures. As for the sea"—Judith shrugged her fine shoulders—"from all I've heard of it, it must be very wet."

Each felt a reticence about broaching the subject uppermost in her thoughts—Judith from the instinctive tendency toward secretiveness that was part of the heritage of her Indian blood; Mary because the subject so closely concerned this girl for whom she felt such genuine admiration.

Judith finally brought up the matter with an abruptness that scarce concealed her anxiety.

"You saw my brother yesterday at Mrs. Clark's eating house. Will you be good enough to tell me just what happened?"

Mary related the incident in detail, Judith cross examining her minutely as to the temper of the men at table toward Jim. Did she know if any cattle-men were present? Did she hear where her brother had gone?

Mary had heard nothing further after he had left the eating house. The only one she had talked to had been Mrs. Clark, whose sympathy had been entirely with Jim. Judith thanked her, but in reality she knew no more now than she had heard from Major Atkins.

Judith now stopped in their walk and stood facing the road as it rolled over the foothills—a skein of yellow silk glimmering in the sun. Then Mary saw that the object spinning across it in the distance, hardly bigger than a doll's carriage, was the long delayed stage. She spoke to the postmistress, but apparently she did not hear—Judith was watching the nearing stage as if it might bring some message of life and death. She stood still, and the drooping lines of her figure straightened, every fiber of her beauty kindled. She was like a flame, palling the sunlight.

And presently was heard the unobtrusive music of sixteen iron shod hoofs beating hard from the earth rhythmic notes, which presently grew hollow and sonorous as they came rattling over the wooden bridge that spanned the creek.

"Chugg!" exclaimed Leander, rushing to the door in a tumult. There was something crucial in the arrival of the delayed stage driver. His delinquencies had deflected the course of the travelers, left them stranded in a remote corner of the wilderness, but now they should again resume the thread of things. Chugg's coming was an event.

"Tain't Chugg," said Leander. "It's Peter Hamilton!" exclaimed Mrs. Dax.

"Land's sakes, the New Yorker!" said the fat lady. Only Judith said nothing. Mr. Hamilton held the ribbons of that battered prairie stage as if he had been driving past the judges' bench at the horse show. Furthermore, he wore blue overalls, a flannel shirt and a sombrero, which sartorial inventory, while it highly became the slim young giant, added an extra comedy touch to his role of whip. He was as dusty as a miller; close cropped curly head, features and clothes were covered with a fine alkali powdering, but he carried his youth as a banner streaming in the blue. And he swung from the stage with the easy flow of muscle that is the reward of those who live in the saddle and make a fine art of throwing the lariat.

They greeted him heartily, all but Judith, who did not trust herself to speak to him before the prying eyes of Mrs. Dax, and escaped to the house. Chugg's latest excursion into oblivion had resulted in a fall from the box. He was not badly hurt and recuperation was largely a matter of "sleeping it off," concluded Peter Hamilton's bulletin of the condition of the stage driver. So the travelers were still marooned at Dax's and the prospect of continuing their journey was as vague as ever.

"Last I heard of you," said Mrs. Dax to Hamilton, with a sort of stone age playfulness, "you was punching cows over to the Bitter Root."

"That's true, Mrs. Dax"—he gave her his most winning smile—"but I could not stay away from you long."

Leander grimaced and rubbed his hands in an ecstasy of delight at finding a man who had the temerity to bandy words with Mrs. Dax.

"Hum-m-m-ph!" she whinnied with equine coquetry. "Guess it was rustlers brought you back as much as me."

Judith, who had entered the room in time to hear Mrs. Dax's last remark, greeted him casually, but her eyes, as they met his, were full of questioning fear. Had he come from the Bitter Root range to hunt down her brother? The thought was intolerable. Yet when he had bidden her goodbye some three weeks ago he had told her that he did not expect to return much before the fall roundup. She had heard a day or two before that he was again in the Wind river country, and her morning vigil beneath the glare of the desert sun had been for him.

Mrs. Dax regarded them with the mercilessness of a death watch. She remembered the time when Hamilton's excuses for his frequent presence at the postoffice had been more voluble than logical, but now he no longer came, and Judith, for all her deliberate flow of spirits, did not quite convince the watchful eyes of Leander's lady. The postmistress was a trifle too cheerful.

"Mrs. Dax," pleaded Peter boyishly. "I'm perishing for a cup of coffee, and I've got to get back to my outfit before dark."

"Oh, go on with you," whinnied the gorgon, but she left the room to make the coffee.

Judith's eyes sought his. "Why don't you and Leander form a coalition for the overthrow of the enemy?" His voice had dropped a tone lower than in his parley with Mrs. Dax. It might have implied special devotion, or it might have implied that the passing tribute to a beautiful woman in a country where women were few—the generic admiration of all men for all women, ephemerally specialized by place and circumstance.

But Judith, harassed at every turn, heart sick with anxiety, had anticipated in Peter's coming, if not a solution of her troubles, at least some evidence of sustaining sympathy and was in no mood for resuscitating the perennial pleasantries anent Leander and his masterful lady.

The shrilling of the locusts emphasized their silence. She spoke to him casually of his change of plan, but he turned the subject, and Judith let the matter drop. She was too simple a woman to stoop to oblique measures for the gaining of her own ends. If he was here to hunt down her brother, if he was here to see the eastern woman at the Wetmore ranch—well, "life was life," to be taken or left. Thus spoke the fatalism that was the heritage of her Indian blood.

When Mr. McCurdy would not offer the information himself, Mr. Hughes started on another line of inquiry. Later in the day Chairman Armstrong explained that since the information desired by the committee could be obtained by another course, it was agreeable to the committee to let McCurdy place himself in the position he did. He, however, had been directed to answer and, knowing the information desired and then refused, Mr. Armstrong said steps would have been taken to indict him for a misdemeanor, which is the offense of a witness refusing to answer questions before a legislative committee while the legislature is not in session. If the legislature were in session, refusal to answer would have constituted contempt.

Mr. McCurdy also during the effort to induce him to answer questions as to the reduction of dividends, launched forth into a protest as to the manner in which the investigation was being conducted. He said the committee was going beyond the scope intended when it was appointed by the legislature, and that the investigation had assumed the proportions of an inquisition.

He was asked by Senator Armstrong how he would conduct the investigation and was told that if he had any better method the committee would be glad to know of it. Mr. McCurdy thought that putting a witness under oath made him feel he was on the rack. He said his answers were published in a distorted form, that appeared like an attempt to ruin him.

After taking up the questions of the reduction of dividends Mr. Hughes read a long list of policy numbers with the amounts of the face of the policy, what had been paid in, and the dividends received by the policy holders. Asked what he had to say to these, Mr. McCurdy said: "Figures don't lie, but liars can figure."

He then hastily explained that he meant that facetiously and would be glad to verify the figures. The only explanation for a specific instance of a reduction of dividends Mr. McCurdy gave was that he supposed the policy holders had a reduced rate policy.

The legal expenses were again resorted to and a number of vouchers for the payment of various sums were read. It was brought out that William Barnes, sr., of Albany, had appeared before the committee in Albany last winter and had received $1,000 from the New York Life Insurance company, as well as the same amount from the Mutual Life Insurance company. Later it was brought out in a letter to Mr. McCurdy from William Barnes, jr., that Mr. Barnes, sr., was under an annual retainer to the Mutual Life Insurance company.

The entire testimony of the day was a continual thrust and parry between counsel and the witness, and when adjournment was taken for the day Mr. Hughes had not finished with Mr. McCurdy. The latter was recalled today and questioned along the lines of the trust companies and subsidiary organizations of the Mutual Life and also as to what moneys were made out of the trust company.

OPENLY JEERED

Richard A. McCurdy Receives the Bitter Taunts of the People.

A RELUCTANT WITNESS

Head of the Great Mutual Life Insurance Company Shows Evidences of the Tightening Coils.

Interest in the Legislative Committee's Hearing Daily Grows More Intense.

New York, Oct. 18.—Testimony in the insurance investigation, which was resumed yesterday after a week's adjournment of the legislative committee, taken because of the death last week of Fred Nixon, speaker of the assembly of the state of New York, was most exciting throughout the entire day, and only the repeated threats of Senator Armstrong, chairman of the committee, to clear the room prevented violent demonstrations of disapprobation of the witness, who was Richard A. McCurdy, president of the Mutual Life Insurance company.

As it was, however, there were jeers at several periods of the day's testimony that temporarily interrupted the testimony. These came when Mr. Hughes, the counsel for the committee, asked questions that Mr. McCurdy was reluctant to answer, or evaded, and were made by the crowd that stood at the back of the room, which long ago proved inadequate to accommodate the counsel and witnesses summoned, with the crowds of spectators, that increases with every hearing. Where this important investigation is going to lead, or where it will end has caused no small amount of conjecture, and, doubtless, in some quarters, anxiety. With the many threads that have been taken up and dropped before they have been followed to their ends, in order that some new lead may be taken up, and with the additional features that are disclosed with almost every day's hearing, the interest grows more intense.

In Mr. McCurdy's testimony yesterday a feature entirely new was disclosed, and this was that the Mutual Life Insurance company employed a literary bureau to send out to the press of the country news matter that was of benefit to the company.

This information was elicited during the probing of the "legal expenses" account. It came out when a voucher for the payment of $2,500 to Joseph Howard, Jr., in 1904, was produced. Another voucher for the same amount paid in May, 1905, was marked "Repayable on demand" and "For professional services."

Mr. McCurdy had vided the vouchers and explained that Mr. Howard was a newspaper correspondent and that his professional services consisted in syndicating news stories. Pressed further, Mr. McCurdy said: "Mr. Howard was a correspondent for the Boston Globe and several other papers."

Mr. McCurdy further said that he paid Mr. Howard about $2,500 a year for these services, and that the voucher for May, 1905, was "really a loan or an advance."

During the earlier session of the day an attempt was made to obtain from Mr. McCurdy the reason for reducing the dividends on policies as the business increased and the assets piled up. This question was prompted by the large number of letters received from policy holders by the committee, and cited facts and examples. These letters came from all over the country. Mr. Hughes explained, but he read a number from policy holders who lived in this city. The examples cited were principally on the policies of the ten-payment life plan. One in particular for $3,000 that in 1876 drew a dividend of $55.76 had been gradually cut until in 1904 it received only $3. The writer inclosed tables and statements from the company's reports and said that this was in the face of the reserve increasing year after year.

To all the questions on this matter the witness said he was not fortified with the information required; that these were actuarial matters, and when pressed for his opinion, replied that he refused to discuss the question or to enter any discussion. He would proffer a witness, his actuary, whose business it was to know these things, but as for himself he "would not discuss the question."

Mr. McCurdy's demeanor was so insistent, and at times defiant, that the spectators bent forward to catch every word and stood on tiptoe, expecting every moment to hear him directed by counsel to answer the question. His proffer of another witness was all that prevented steps being taken toward his indictment.

When Mr. McCurdy would not offer the information himself, Mr. Hughes started on another line of inquiry. Later in the day Chairman Armstrong explained that since the information desired by the committee could be obtained by another course, it was agreeable to the committee to let McCurdy place himself in the position he did. He, however, had been directed to answer and, knowing the information desired and then refused, Mr. Armstrong said steps would have been taken to indict him for a misdemeanor, which is the offense of a witness refusing to answer questions before a legislative committee while the legislature is not in session. If the legislature were in session, refusal to answer would have constituted contempt.

Mr. McCurdy also during the effort to induce him to answer questions as to the reduction of dividends, launched forth into a protest as to the manner in which the investigation was being conducted. MAYOR EXCLUDED

Philadelphia Council's Committee Bars Weaver From Hearing.

SPRUNG A SENSATION

Superintendent of Police Lets Out Some Secrets That Committee Vainly Endeavored to Conceal.

How Men Whose Photographs Were In the Rogue's Gallery Got on the Police Force

Philadelphia, Oct. 18.—The special committee of seven of select council appointed last August to investigate the affairs of the various departments of the city as conducted by Mayor Weaver and his directors, has begun the taking of testimony. The meeting of the committee was not without its sensations, chief of which were the request to Mayor Weaver and three of his directors to leave the hearing room, and the statement of John B. Taylor, superintendent of police, that David J. Smythe, former director of public safety, had told him not to molest election repeaters. Superintendent Taylor's statement was made despite the vigorous efforts of Milton C. Work, the chairman of the committee, to confine him to the questions propounded by the committee's attorney. The committee brought out statements from witnesses that policemen attended a meeting of a political club when they should have been on duty. Mayor Weaver and the city party insist that the police are not in politics, while leaders of the Republican organization claim the policemen are as much in politics now as ever they were.

Unusual precautions had been taken to exclude from council's finance committee room where the meeting was held, all persons except a limited number of newspaper men and witnesses. Only one of the latter was admitted to the chamber at a time. Despite Mayor Weaver's earnest protest he and his directors were excluded.

The first witness called was Superintendent Taylor. He testified that he was president of the Twenty-fourth ward Republican club, and that the greater number of policemen of the district in which the club is situated were members of the organization. In answer to questions he said on the last meeting night of the club forty or fifty policemen attended the meeting, some of them leaving their beats to do so. He said the absent policemen's beats were covered, but he refused to answer in what manner. The policemen attended the meeting by permission of the lieutenant of the district who had received orders from former Director of Public Safety Smythe, that policemen were to be permitted to attend political meetings if they wanted to. This order, he said, had not been rescinded by the present director. He denied that he issued orders to men how to vote on club matters except that he told them he was with the administration and that the men should help the mayor.

The superintendent was pressed so hard by counsel regarding police in politics that he became angry and started to make statements that startled the committeemen. He said if the committee wanted to know the whole truth about the police business he could tell them how Director Smythe told him to take care of repeaters and how he had to take from the rogue's gallery the photographs of men who were on the police force.

In vain the chairman tried to check him and then threatened to eject him, but Superintendent Taylor kept right on. One of the attorneys said the committee did not want to know anything about that, but wanted to know how the homes of the people were protected.

"I'll tell you," exclaimed the witness. "By men who have spent three and four years in the penitentiary and whose pictures were taken from the rogue's gallery by Director Smythe."

Aid Was Given Revolutionists.
New York, Oct. 18.—General Francis V. Greene, former president of the National Asphalt company, was examined before United States Commissioner Gilchrist as a witness in behalf of the Venezuelan government in the action instituted by the latter against the New York and Bermudez company to recover about $11,000,000 because of the latter organization's alleged assistance of the Matos revolution in 1901. General Greene was asked but one question, his reply being to the effect that the defendant company did materially aid the revolutionists.

Denver Grand Jury Returns Some Sensational Indictments.

Denver, Col., Oct. 18.—Leonard Imboden, James A. Hill, C. B. Wilfley, E. E. Hull, H. L. Hull, C. C. Fobert, W. T. Camp, D. M. Carey, A. B. Davis and J. H. Edmondson have been indicted by the grand jury on the charge of conspiring to steal $1,712,587 from the Denver Savings bank.

Wilfley and Edmondson were former presidents of the Denver Savings bank and Hull was president when the receiver was appointed on Aug. 19 last. H. L. Hull is president of the Mount Vernon National bank of Boston, Roberts and Carey are officers of the Cherokee State bank of Enid, Okla., Camp and Davis are officers of the Texas State Trust company of Fort Worth, Tex., and Imboden and E. E. Hull are promoters.

In addition to the general conspiracy, indictments were found against Edmondson on charges of larceny, embezzlement and converting the funds of the depositors to his own use. He is charged specifically with the robbery of $105,000. Four indictments were returned against Wilfley, charging him with loaning certain funds belonging to the bank and securing heavy commissions for his own use. One indictment was returned against Hull, charging him with the embezzlement of $10,000.

Warrants were immediately issued for the arrest of the indicted men. Imboden, Wilfley and Hull were arrested here and capias for those not in the city were telegraphed to the cities where they reside.

MOVING AN ARMY
Big Job Before Russians in Getting Out of Manchuria.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 18.—The war office has communicated the news of the ratification of the treaty to General Linevitch, who has been ordered to arrange the necessary steps to carry out the provisions for the withdrawal of the Russian troops from Manchuria in eighteen months and the evacuation of Korea, and instructing him to communicate with the Japanese commander if necessary. Orders have already been given for the return to Russia of the army reserve men and the Thirteenth corps, which was on its way to the front when peace was arranged.

No decision has been arrived at as to the size of the army which will remain in Siberia. It depends to some extent on financial considerations and the outcome of the coming negotiations for a new loan.

Though the interned Russia vessels are free to leave neutral ports, the date of their departure has not been fixed. Rear Admiral Enquist's squadron at Manila and the warships at Saigon and Shanghai will return to European ports. The cruiser Lena, now at San Francisco and the transports will go to Vladivostok.

THE STORK BRINGS JOY
To the household but how about the mother? Has she been joyful during the weeks and months preceding the advent?

Too many mothers find it a time of fearful anxiety because of the knowledge that they are "not in good health." They have allowed weaknesses, pains and drams to accumulate till the health is completely undermined and they are "more than discouraged," and all because they have been misadvised by well-meaning friends or misinformed by an inefficient doctor.

To all such here is the news that there is a remedy that will heal and not hurt. It was discovered forty years ago by Dr. Pierce's search of Nature's laboratory—the earth, for the remedial agents so liberally provided therein. He took Lady's Slipper root, Black Cohosh root, Unicorn root, Blue Cohosh root, Golden Seal root, and by extracting, combining and preserving, without the use of alcohol, the glyceric extracts of those natural remedies he has given to the world DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION, which has its credit the enviable and unparalleled record of more than a half-million of cures in the last forty years.

"Only those who have given Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription a trial can appreciate what a boon it is to suffering women," writes Miss Vina Semore, of 38 Elm St., Toronto, Ont. "For two years I suffered intensely from female weakness until life was a burden to me. I had distressing bearing-down pains so I could scarcely stand up. Had hot flashes, was very despondent, weak and utterly wretched. My physician gave me treatments but without success. I tried several remedies but obtained no relief until I began to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I began immediately to improve, and in four months time I was as well and strong as ever."

CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON

KING OF ALL DISEASES

To Contagious Blood Poison rightfully belongs the name King of all Diseases. It is the most powerful of all human ailments—corrupting every part of the body and wrecking the lives of those unfortunate enough to contract it. When the first sign appears in the form of an insignificant sore or ulcer, few persons realize that the deadly virus has entered the blood; but so potent is the poison that one drop will vitiate and pollute the purest and healthiest blood, and in a short time the degrading and horrible symptoms begin to appear. The mouth and throat ulcerate, the glands in the neck and groins swell, the hair and eye-brows fall out, copper-colored spots appear on the body, and in the latter stages of the disease the poison even works down and destroys the bones. No other disease is so highly contagious, and many have contracted it and suffered its awful consequences through a friendly hand-shake, handling the clothing of one afflicted with it, or drinking from the same vessel. S. S. S., The King of Blood Purifiers, is the only cure for Contagious Blood Poison. It goes down into the circulation and forces out every particle of the virus. It is nature's antidote for this peculiar poison, and cures the disease in all its stages, and cures it permanently. S. S. S. does not hide or cover up any of the poison to break out in future years, but so completely eradicates it from the blood that no signs are ever seen again. S. S. S. is purely vegetable, we offer $1,000 for proof that it contains a particle of mineral of any kind. 20th Century Laurel Stove

GUARANTEED FOR FIVE YEARS

Why this Stove Makes Warm Floors

The hottest part of the fire being always against the fire pot as illustrated above, the greater part of the heat is radiated downward, heating the floor much more than a baseburner does. Two or three tons of slack or soft coal will heat the ordinary house, giving as continuous and uniform heat as heretofore could only be obtained with a hard coal baseburner.

We also carry a full line of all kinds of heater prices lower than the lowest. We have a big stock and must sell them.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT and party leave Washington today on a trip through the South to New Orleans. The President will make a number of speeches on the trip. He will return to Washington Oct. 31.

WITH the Irwins surveying a route for an electric line between this city and Columbus, the Indianapolis & Louisville Traction surveying this way from Jeffersonville and A. T. Russell doing the preliminary work for a traction line to French Lick it begins to look like Seymour will some day become the traction center of Southern Indiana. This city now has better steam railway facilities than any other city in this section of the state and the traction lines will add still more to our transportation facilities and further the prosperity and progress of our city and county.

Millionaire's Poor Stomach.

The worn-out stomach of the over-fed millionaire is often paraded in the public prints as a horrible example of the evils attendant on the possession of great wealth. But millionaires are not the only ones who are afflicted with bad stomachs. The proportion is far greater among the toilers. Dyspepsia and indigestion are rampant among these people, and they suffer far worse tortures than the millionaire unless they avail themselves of a standard medicine like Green's August Flower, which has been a favorite household remedy for all stomach troubles for over thirty-five years. August Flower rouses the torpid liver thus creating appetite and insuring perfect digestion. It tones and vitalizes the entire system and makes life worth living, no matter what your station. Trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

House Work

Need Not Wear Her Out

The drudgery of house work seems never ending to tired-out, dispirited women who suffer from female complaints or irregularities. Inflammation and ulceration of the womb and ovaries cause fearful bearing down pains which are aggravated by much standing on the feet, and lifting necessary in house work.

But let no woman despair of relief from this torture. That famous tonic reconstructor of diseased or disordered female organism, has cured more than one million American Women, and it will cure you. When monthly periods are painful or irregular, when backaches and headaches drive out all ambition, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will bring back health, strength, and happiness.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

It Gave Me New Life and Vigor

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Last spring, while we were moving, I did considerable more work than my strength permitted, and, having mental trouble at the same time, my health broke down completely and I found myself unable to rest or eat. My nervous system became shattered and I was pale and emaciated and had to take to my bed. My sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and, although I had no faith in patent medicines, I was so miserable that I would take anything for relief. I found that it made a complete change for the better, inducing appetite and restful sleep and imparting new life and vigor to my entire system. I gained nearly fourteen pounds, my complexion looked fresh and clear, and my best friends were surprised and pleased at the change and could hardly credit the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had accomplished it.

Traction Talk.

Dr. J. H. Davis was at Azalia Tuesday and spent sometime with the surveyors who are in the employ of the Irtwin.

He says Jos. I. Irwin was with the surveying party and talked confidently about the extension of his traction line to Seymour, but would give no expression as to his preference for the Jonesville or Azalia route.

Dr. Davis says the Azalia people are hopeful. The surveyors reached the Hamblen school Tuesday night and will reach Columbus Wednesday evening or Thursday forenoon.

Dismissed.

The husband of the plaintiff was first put on the stand and when court adjourned at noon his evidence was incomplete.

When court convened after the noon hour the plaintiff's attorney made a motion to dismiss the case, thus ending the suit very abruptly.

"Things are moving along nicely," said R. F. Gottschalk yesterday evening, speaking in regard to the proposed absorption of the local street railway by a company embracing Chicago and Indianapolis capitalists who have plans for the construction of an interurban line from this city to French Lick and West Baden.—Columbus Times.

Vinol THE COD LIVER PREPARATION WITHOUT OIL

Vinol is fast superseding old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions because, without a drop of oil or disagreeable feature, it contains all the medicinal elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods' livers. By our process the oil, having no value either as a medicine or food, is separated from the medicinal elements and thrown away. Unlike old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions, Vinol is deliciously palatable, agreeable to the weakest stomach, and therefore unequaled as a body builder and strength creator for old people, puny children, weak, run-down men and women, after sickness, and for all pulmonary diseases. Everything Vinol contains is named on the label.

OUR GUARANTEE—We have such faith in VINOL that if you will take it we promise if it does not benefit or cure you we will return your money without question. We take all the risk.

down pains are a symptom of the most serious trouble which can attack a woman, viz: falling of the womb. With this, generally, come irregular, painful, scanty or profuse periods, wasteful, weakening drains, dreadful backache, headache, nervousness, dizziness, irritability, tired feeling, inability to walk, loss of appetite, color and beauty. The cure is

Sick Headache

When your head aches, there is a storm in the nervous system, centering in the brain.

This irritation produces pain in the head, and the turbulent nerve current sent to the stomach causes nausea, vomiting.

This is sick headache, and is dangerous, as frequent and prolonged attacks weaken the brain, resulting in loss of memory, inflammation, epilepsy, fits, dizziness, etc.

Alay this stormy, irritated, aching condition by taking Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills.

They stop the pain by soothing, strengthening and relieving the tension upon the nerves—not by paralyzing them, as do most headache remedies.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills do not contain opium, morphine, chloral, cocaine or similar drugs.

"Sick headache is hereditary in my family," says a woman who had a great deal, and for many years I have had spells that were so severe that I was unable to attend to my business affairs for a day or so at a time. During a very severe attack of headache, I took Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills and they relieved me almost immediately. Since then I take them when I feel the spell coming on and it stops it at once.

PARRY'S VIEWS

Manufacturers' Association Doesn't Agree With President on Rate Issue.

Indianapolis, Oct. 18.—D. M. Parry of this city, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, has mailed to prominent shippers and manufacturers throughout the country a circular letter containing his views on the subject of government regulation of freight rates. Mr. Parry's plan will also be submitted to President Roosevelt and to congress during the coming session. He proposes the creation of a bureau on interstate transportation, as an adjunct to the department of labor and commerce, presided over by a commissioner who shall be authorized to adjust differences between shippers and the roads. If the commissioner cannot adjust the differences, then Mr. Parry would have them carried to a special court, the judges of which would pay attention to no other matters. He is opposed to President Roosevelt's plan to confer the power to fix rates on the interstate commerce commission.

A report prepared by Cyrus W. Neal, clerk of the insurance department of the auditor of state's office, shows that thirty-five new insurance companies with a paid-up capital of $10,000,000 and admitted assets of $35,000,000 have come into the Indiana field since the last legislature enacted a law broadening the class of securities they might deposit as assets. Of the thirty-five companies twenty-one are stock fire companies, four mutuals, nine casualties and one legal reserve life. The receipts in taxes from the new companies will be almost sufficient to pay the expenses of the insurance department of the state. Mr. Neal says that ten years ago the annual receipts amounted to $200,000, but this year they will be $265,000. He also says the number of licenses issued to agents will be greater than ever in Indiana this year, the total receipts from such fees amounting to $15,000.

Truman Tillman of Boonville, private secretary to Senator James A. Hemenway, is here attending the grand council of Masons of Indiana. He says the senator, who recently returned from Washington, is in better health than for a long time. Senator Hemenway, he declares, will remain in Indiana until after the municipal elections, Nov. 7, when he will leave for Washington with his family.

PANG CAN RETURN

President Cuts Red Tape That Bound an Indiana Chinaman.

Washington, Oct. 18.—The president has ordered the admission into the United States of Pang Hong, a twenty-five-year-old American-born Chinaman who has been detained at Port of N. D. for the past month. The action was taken upon the representations of Rev. T. H. Kuhn of Richmond, Ind., who told the president that Pang Hong had embraced Christianity under his ministrations and that he knew the truth of his representations as to nativity. The young man went to China a year ago to visit relatives, and not understanding he carried a passport, his admission was refused by the treasury officials.

Government Seeks to Recover.

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 18.—In the federal court six cases were filed through Attorney General Moody to recover to the government title to lands in Oregon, Washington and California, out of which the government has been defrauded. The complaint names Frederick A. Hyde, John A. Benson, C. W. Clarke, the Willamette Pulp & Paper company, William G. Gosselin, Alfred Trexburg, W. H. Sawyer and others, charging bribery, perjury, forgery, etc. In disposing of lands in Vancouver district, Washington, and in Oregon and California, Henry F. Dimond, a lawyer of San Francisco, is named as having been employed by the defendants to assist them in the alleged defrauding of the government.

Indiana Man Remembered.

Washington, Oct. 18.—Colonel Wm. H. Michael, who has been chief clerk of the department since the late John Sherman was secretary of state, is to be succeeded by Charles Denby of Indiana, a son of the late Charles Denby, one time United States minister to China. Colonel Michael is to be transferred to an important post in the consular service, a post which will pay him a much larger salary than that he is now receiving.

Train Leaves the Track.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 18.—Thirty-four persons were injured, three perhaps fatally, in an accident to the northbound passenger train on the Cheyenne & Northern near Horse Creek, twenty-five miles north of Cheyenne. The train was rounding a curve when the smoker and day coach left the rails and rolled down the embankment a distance of twenty feet.

SEEING AMERICA.

Wonderful Scenic Trip Across Rocky Mountains to Oregon Exposition.

In certain respects the excursions to the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition, Portland, Oregon, via Pennsylvania Lines, beginning May 2nd and continuing through the summer, offer advantages never before presented to Exposition visitors. The trip to the Oregon Exposition, in addition to the attractiveness of the extensive exhibits, includes the journey through the scenic wonderland of the Rocky Mountains and the Cascade Range, and what American has not looked forward from the days of the geography class in school to the time when those great sights should be seen in reality? The time was never so favorable as now. The trip may be made less expensive than ever. For only a light difference in fare tourists may extend their trip to San Francisco and Los Angeles. The return trip may be made over a different route, enabling travelers to view much more of the west. For full particulars, fares, dates of special excursions to Portland and passenger service apply to ticket agent of Pennsylvania Lines.
